

A MESSAGE FROM OUR FIRM CONCERNING CORONAVIRUS – WE ARE WORKING, SAFELY

These are challenging and uncertain times for our community and our country. We are here with you to navigate the unprecedented issues the coronavirus has caused. We are making every effort to ensure the safety and well-being of all of our employees and clients. While doing so, Kravit, Hovel & Krawczyk (“KHK”) remains fully operational.

To safeguard the health of our employees, and to help prevent the spread of the virus, KHK has closed its physical office effective March 23, 2020. Our attorneys and staff are fully connected and working remotely. We have full communication capabilities and access to all of our files, research sources, and all other necessary information and documents needed to fully service our clients during this time. Email is the quickest way to communicate with us, but we are also available by phone and/or videoconferencing as needed.

Our goal is to act and respond appropriately to the current public health situation, while also being fully available for our clients because we know, even in extraordinary circumstances like this, aggravated litigation™ does not stop, legal issues and disputes are unavoidable, and we are here to give them prompt attention and care. We are committed to providing the highest level of legal representation, as we always do, no matter the challenges all of us face.

If you have any questions, or if you are in need of representation, you can e-mail any of our attorneys at the e-mails below or call our office at 414-271-7100. If you get the automated message, there will be instructions regarding how to directly reach the attorney you’re looking for and/or to leave a general message for someone to get in touch with you.
